THE SPACE BEHIND THE SPORTS HALL

Our school has a small outdoor area that students rarely used. The student council asked classmates what could make it more useful. Some wanted a quiet place to read, while others wanted somewhere to talk during breaks. Instead of choosing only one idea, the school tried movable benches and a small book trolley. Students could arrange the seats differently throughout the day. After a month, the council checked how the space was being used. It was busiest at lunchtime, but quieter visitors preferred the period before lessons. The council decided to keep the trial going and collect more suggestions before spending money on permanent changes.

16. Why did the council ask students for ideas?
    A) The outdoor area was rarely used.
    B) The sports hall had to close permanently.
    C) The school had too many books.

17. How were different preferences addressed?
    A) All conversation was banned.
    B) Movable seats allowed different arrangements.
    C) The area became a sports court only.

18. When was the area busiest?
    A) After the school closed B) At lunchtime C) During every lesson

19. Why did the council continue the trial?
    A) To prevent students from sharing opinions
    B) To gather more information before permanent changes
    C) To remove the benches immediately

20. Which title best fits?
    A) Testing Ideas Before Making Changes
    B) Building the Largest Sports Hall
    C) A Competition Between School Clubs
