A Different Route

When Selin attended a school careers fair, she expected to choose architecture. However, a workshop on environmental technology changed her plans. She enjoyed finding practical ways to save water and decided to investigate environmental engineering. Next Tuesday, she is meeting an engineer online to ask about university courses. Before the meeting, she will prepare five questions. Selin has not made a final university choice yet. She wants to compare course content and opportunities for practical training rather than choose a course simply because her friends prefer it.

16. What first changed Selin's career plans?
    A) A university entrance result B) A job offer from an architect C) A workshop at the careers fair

17. What has Selin arranged for next Tuesday?
    A) A tour of five universities
    B) An interview for a full-time job
    C) An online meeting with an engineer

18. Why will she prepare questions?
    A) To make the meeting useful
    B) To apply for a passport
    C) To teach her friends architecture

19. Which factor matters to Selin when comparing courses?
    A) Opportunities for practical training
    B) Whether all her friends choose them
    C) The number of career fairs they hold

20. Which statement is supported by the text?
    A) Selin is exploring a career before making a final choice.
    B) Selin has already started university.
    C) Selin has stopped considering engineering.
