Read the text and answer questions 16 to 20.

Before Drawing Conclusions

When Baran did not answer a group message, his classmates assumed he was refusing to help with their presentation. One student posted an angry comment. The following morning, Baran explained that his internet connection had failed and he had completed his part offline. He brought his notes to school. The classmate who had written the comment apologised. The group agreed that they should have checked what had happened before making accusations. They also decided to exchange a second contact method so that a technical problem would not prevent future communication.

16. What did the classmates initially assume?
    A) Baran had already sent all his notes.
    B) Baran was refusing to help.
    C) The presentation had been cancelled.
17. Why hadn't Baran answered?
    A) He had lost interest in the subject.
    B) He had refused to read any message.
    C) His internet connection had failed.
18. What showed that Baran had worked on the presentation?
    A) An angry comment he posted
    B) The notes he brought to school
    C) A new internet bill
19. What should the group have done first?
    A) Removed Baran without asking him
    B) Checked what had happened
    C) Deleted everyone's work
20. Why did they exchange another contact method?
    A) To avoid working together again
    B) To communicate during technical problems
    C) To make the presentation longer
