A Welcome Display

At the start of term, four students made a display for new pupils. First, they listed useful places in the school. They included the library, office and dining hall. Then they added a simple map. Rana wanted to write long descriptions, but the others suggested short sentences so visitors could read them quickly. On the first morning, several new pupils used the display to find their classrooms. The group later added answers to two questions that visitors had asked.

16. Who was the display for?
    A) New pupils B) Only the headteacher C) Former teachers

17. What did the students add after listing places?
    A) A list of exam results B) A bus ticket C) A simple map

18. Why did they use short sentences?
    A) To hide the names of the places
    B) To avoid including a map
    C) To make the information quick to read

19. How did pupils use the display?
    A) To choose a new headteacher B) To order lunch online C) To find their classrooms

20. What did the group add later?
    A) Long descriptions of every city
    B) Answers to visitors' questions
    C) Photographs from a cancelled trip
